

CONSUMERS ENERGY HVAC PROGRAM 2021-2022 TRANSITION UPDATES

Thank you for your continued support of the Heating and Cooling (HVAC) Program. Due to strong participation and success, the HVAC program is looking to reach goals before the end of December. To set us up for success next year, the HVAC Program team will complete the 2021 program near the third week of December and begin its transition to the 2022 program year.

A friendly reminder to please submit all 2021 outstanding applications as soon as possible. The program will continue to accept application submission through the remainder of the year, but submissions after mid-December 2021 may experience delayed rebate checks until early January 2022.

2022 Program Year: Any applications submitted on or after Jan. 1, 2022 will follow the new 2022 rebate structure. Based on current status, rebates will remain the same through first quarter 2022. Any program changes will occur starting second quarter of 2022. Stay tuned for further updates.

Please reach out to our Account Advocate Team with any questions.
